INTRODUCTION

This publication was undertaken as a special Sesquicentennial Project by Janet Kitchen Roberts and Verda Johnson Baird. The original books had no identification of places on the maps, which we added before reproducing. The lists by township have been checked several times to keep everything as accurate and complete as possible, yet errors have a way of creeping in. Be assured they were not intentional.

IOWA STATE SAVINGS BANK.

Above we present the cut of the Iowa State Savings Bank of Fairfield, Iowa.

In May, 1890, the representative business men of Fairfield, realizing the need of a strong financial institution, organized the Iowa State Savings Bank, which was the first Savings Bank in Jefferson County.

Upon the completion of its organization they built the above building. J. E. Roth was chosen President and E. A. Howard Vice President. Mr. Roth remaining as its President since its organization till July, 1908, at which time he tendered his resignation on account of his desire to retire from active service, and Joseph Ricksler was elected to succeed him, E. A. Howard still remaining Vice President.

In January, 1908, the entire inside of the Banking room was remodeled and a complete set of mahogany and marble furniture was installed, which makes the appearance now equal to any in South-Eastern Iowa.

The bank has made a phenomenal growth. It was organized with a capital of $60,000.00; today its surplus is $60,000.00, and its undivided profits are over $60,000.00, making its total working capital over $180,000.00.

But they have not kept all the profits for themselves for they have paid back to their patrons over $158,000.00 in interest since its organization, and the people show their appreciation of what this Bank has done for them, for their deposits are over $700,000.00.

It has always been known as the Bank where you are welcome, and the present management cordially invites all citizens and visitors of Fairfield and Jefferson County to make this Bank their headquarters.
